Equality and Diversity Statement

The Employment Bureau staff members within Anglia Ruskin University are committed to valuing diversity and promoting equality. We are friendly and inclusive, and celebrate individuality and diversity. We support and encourage everyone, and strive hard to anticipate and meet needs and aspirations. We are committed to the Equality and Diversity Policies of Anglia Ruskin University and to the statements of service within the Employability Service.

Whether you are an existing or potential student, a member of staff or a client we hope you will find a supportive environment in which to work with us, where people treat each other with dignity, courtesy and respect. We will only work with clients that adhere and respect these values.

Our staff members work within Anglia Ruskin University's equality policy framework which applies to all students and staff. We take this very seriously: everyone who joins the Anglia Ruskin community is expected to comply with this framework, and breaches may lead to dismissal or expulsion.
