

Infoscreens - Before You Start

V1.1

Adrian Brett, IT Services

To find out more about this system

<http://web.anglia.ac.uk/it/services/signage/>

Introduction

Before you start working with the Infoscreens here is some useful information and kinks that you should be aware of. When creating content for the infoscreens you are required to comply with Anglia Ruskin University branding guidelines. To assist you in creating content templates are provided and a link to software that may assist you in content creation.

1. Anglia Ruskin University Branding Guidelines

Your image design will need to follow the branding guidelines:

http://web.anglia.ac.uk/anet/cmids/about/design_and_delivery/our_brand.phtml

2. Templates

Once you have read the Infoscreen Image Size information below you may wish to use one of the templates that have been designed by the Student Services Information and Communications Team. Templates are available as Photoshop, InDesign and Illustrator files and are available from:

http://web.anglia.ac.uk/anet/student_services/staff/student_comms/digital-signage.phtml

3. Template Editing Software

To find out more about the Adobe software available to use with the template please visit:

<http://web.anglia.ac.uk/it/software/adobe/index.phtml>. Other image creation tools are available as part of the standard staff university PC software suite.